How to recover lost money in crypto?

Recovering lost cryptocurrency is difficult (+1-864-310-5443) because blockchain transactions are irreversible, but depending on how the loss occurred, there are some paths you can take.

If your wallet was hacked or you were scammed, (+1-864-310-5443) act immediately. First, revoke any suspicious token approvals using tools like Revoke.cash to prevent further losses . (+1-864-310-5443) Then, document everything—transaction hashes, wallet addresses, screenshots—and report the incident to law enforcement (FBI's IC3 in the U.S.) and the exchange involved . (+1-864-310-5443) If funds reach a centralized exchange, they may be frozen .

If you lost access to your wallet, (+1-864-310-5443) recovery is only possible with your seed phrase (12–24 words). Download the original wallet app, select "Restore Wallet," and enter your phrase in the correct order . Without it, recovery is impossible.

Beware of recovery scams—anyone promising to (+1-864-310-5443) recover funds for an upfront fee is likely a fraudster . Legitimate recovery is rare, so prioritize securing what remains.